

INFUSION
INFORMATION

Introduction:

Infusion is a gap year scheme run by Purley Baptist Church. It was established in 2003 and has proved to be extremely valuable both to the youth ministry and the worker.

The youth work at Purley Baptist Church is varied, large and challenging. We have an Infusion worker for two main reasons. Firstly we are seeking to enhance the work in the church and community as we reach out and help to grow young people into a deeper faith in Jesus. Secondly we believe in equipping and training youth workers for service within God's kingdom.

If you are interested in this exciting opportunity then please read on for more information.

Mark Humm – PBC Youth Pastor

What is it?

A gap year scheme working mainly within the youth department at PBC, to gain experience and training in church and community based Christian youth work.

When is it?

Infusion is a year long scheme from September – August; although the starting date and month is negotiable.

Who is it for?

The infusion scheme is for a committed follower of Jesus, who has a heart for young people and a passion to serve within the church and community.

Doing what?

Infusion is an opportunity for somebody to work in a church setting, primarily with young people. The Infusion worker will work alongside Mark Humm, Purley Baptist Church Youth Minister. The main emphasis during the year will be to assist with the work in the present programme of activities in order to build relationships with the young people. There is potential for the Infusion worker to take responsibility for different elements of the work depending on gifting. The Infusion worker will be given the opportunity to develop and implement their own vision within the work.
